- 5.2. Round 1 In each Division a random draw will be made by the Executive Committee to allocate each team to a gala which would normally contain six or eight teams. The number of pools and the number of lanes required is determined by the number of teams in a Division. The first drawn team will be allocated lane 1, the second drawn team will be allocated lane 2 etc. until all the lanes in the pool have been filled.
- 5.3. Round 2 In each Division a random draw will be made by the Executive Committee to allocate each team to a gala which would normally contain six or eight teams. The number of pools and the number of lanes required is determined by the number of teams in a Division. The first drawn team will be allocated lane 1, the second drawn team will be allocated lane 2 etc. until all the lanes in the pool have been filled.
- 5.4. Round 3 In each Division based on the cumulative number of gala points from Round 1 and Round 2 the teams are seeded from highest to lowest. The highest placed teams are then allocated to the top gala and similarly (if there are enough teams in a division) the next group of teams form the middle gala and the remaining teams form the bottom gala. In each gala the teams are spearheaded according to their accumulative points. These points are then expunged. The gala points gained in Round 3 by a team determine the position of that team in the final table of the Division with the top gala teams taking the top gala positions and similarly for the middle gala and the bottom gala.

- 5.5. In the event of a team not attending Round 3 that team will be placed last in the Division irrespective of which gala it had been allocated to in Round three
- 5.6.
